

Egyptian Food Safety Information Center(EFSIC)

*1 Including communication with authorities of food accreditation

*2 Including website activation, newsletters, new legislations whether national or international

*3 Including conducting research activities related to the problems facing the major food safety issues i.e. water contamination, packaging materials, maximum limits of food additives and some chemical contaminants.

*4 Including planning for T.O.T. implementation and extension programs.

*5 Including strengthening of EFSIC coordination activity with national and international institutes such as FAO, WHO, FDA, FIC,etc.